

Senate snubs evaluation

by Rosemary Oliver

The Senate Committee on the Disclosure of Information has ruled that the publication of departmental course evaluations violates Senate guidelines on privacy.

At the Senate meeting Wednesday afternoon, Committee Chairperson Sheila Goldbloom presented the Committee's decision.

"In making this decision, the Committee does not want to give the impression that we are against course evaluations," said Goldbloom, a professor in the School of Social Work.

"We are just very concerned about the principle of privacy of information," she said.

The Committee's decision came in response to a request by Dean of Law John Brierley, whose faculty council had mandated him to ask Senate to clarify the guidelines on disclosure. Last fall, the Law Council voted to publish course evaluations by the department, a decision later challenged by a number of professors.

"If the department does it (evaluations), it is not publishable, because that is private information," Goldbloom said. She said that if the students conducted their own evaluation the results could be published.

The problem of privacy stems from the fact that departmental evaluations are placed in a professor's file, most of which is private. Student evaluations, however, do not enter the file except upon request of the professor.

Law Student Senator Guy Knowles said he was disappointed that "while so many of the guidelines are unclear, evaluations should be categorically controlled by these guidelines."

Knowles also questioned the authority of the Committee to give a final ruling on the subject.

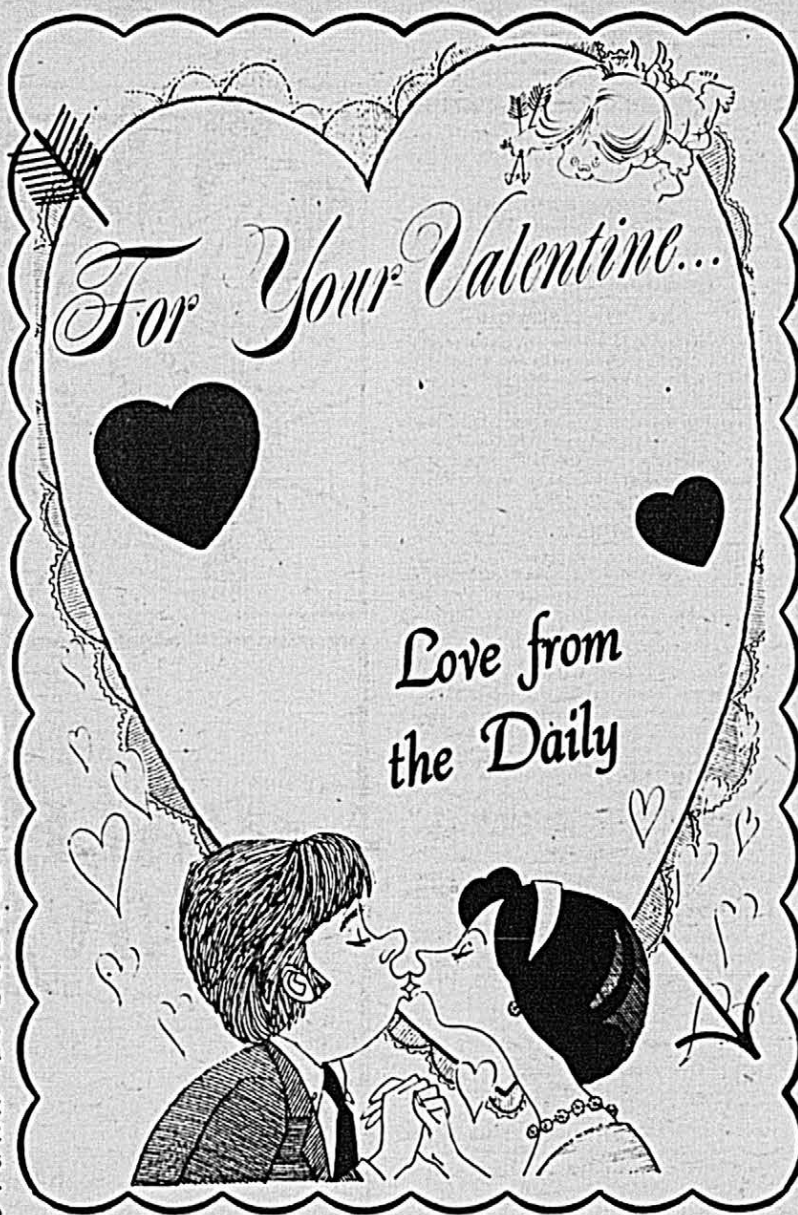

Because the guidelines have never been ratified by the Board of Governors, there is some question as to whether they can be enforced, a point Brierley raised in his initial presentation to the Committee. This question has been referred back to the Steering Committee of Senate which will issue its report at the next Senate meeting, February 25.

Cliff Rand, president of the Law Undergraduate Society, said that students are waiting for a final decision from Senate before deciding whether to go ahead with their own evaluation.

"We certainly hope it will not be delayed any further and that a decision will be reached at the next meeting," Rand said.

"After that, time restrictions would make it necessary for students to go ahead and publish their own course evaluations which would certainly be less desirable than having the faculty publish theirs."

In other faculties, course evaluations are currently conducted by students, and there are no such departmental publications.

Friday
February 13, 1981
Vol. 70, No. 73
Montréal

Canada's Only Students' Daily

The McGill Daily

Energy conference:

Provinces slam federal plan

by Chris Cavanagh and Stewart Freed

Led by Newfoundland Minister of Energy Leo Barry, representatives of the oil-producing provinces launched their initial attack against the federal government's National Energy Program (NEP) during a speech held yesterday as part of the McGill Student Conference on Energy.

"In the three months since the NEP was tabled, we have seen and heard much to indicate just how heavily it (the NEP) will impact on our economic and social structure. Unfortunately, we are still waiting for evidence of even one positive implication — especially for the federation itself," said Barry.

The main objectives of the NEP are to encourage exploration and development, and to increase Canadian participation (either through Petro-Canada or private oil companies) to a minimum 50 per cent level, ensuring that Canada gains a "fair share of the economic benefits."

Federal Minister of Energy Marc Lalonde explained that as a result of the proposed legislation, the federal government reserves the right to expropriate 25 per cent of revenues earned on Canadian territory.

"I leave it to you to judge the appropriateness of our action," said Lalonde.

While provincial represen-

Health Services to be discharged

by Wendy Jones

A proposal to bring the McGill Health Services under the auspices of the Family Medicine Centre at the Montreal General Hospital (MGH) was approved by the Committee on the Coordination of Student Services yesterday.

Negotiations will now proceed between Dean of Student Services Michael Herschorn and the Director of the Family Medicine Centre to work out the details of such an arrangement.

The proposal, authored by MGH-affiliate Dr. W.K. MacDonald, recommends several controversial cutbacks in on-site facilities of the Health Service. Among these are the laboratory and radiology services as well as gynecology services.

While MacDonald noted that some of the Health Services' staff consider it "critical" to have lab services on site, he finds it impractical. Concerning radiology services, he admitted that they were "time-saving" for the students, but not necessary.

But Dr. Cynberg of Health Service recalled that 50 per cent of the lab work done in the last few months (in response to an outbreak of mono) has been emergency cases.

"The students needed to know quickly," he said.

In his report MacDonald recognizes that "almost 100 per cent of gynecological services are of a primary-care nature in the McGill Student Health Service. The age population simply does not present any significant number of gynecological problems requiring highly specialized services."

Strong objections to the proposal came from the Health Service staff. Speaking on behalf of the staff, Health Service Director G.F. Thomas presented an alternative report to the committee.

"We have never had an expert in student health studying the situation, so we came up with our own proposal," said Thomas.

"We know the clientele we are serving and we know the needs of the students," he added.

Thomas said he thought that administration by MGH would be unnecessarily complicated and wondered who the students would have to complain to about their grievances.

When these objections to these proposals were raised, the committee was assured by both Herschorn and Vice-principal (Academic) Elgil Pedersen that these were "details" which the Health Service does not necessarily have to adopt.

Herschorn said, "Radiology and laboratory services can be maintained provided we are willing to pay for them."

"Things can be negotiated," said Pedersen, "we can have any kind of health service we want."

Herschorn emphasized that the main thrust of the proposal is that the Health Service will be administered by the Director continued on page 3

"The unequal distribution of continued on page 3

CAUT asks for McGill inquiry

by Peter Findlay

The Canadian Association of University Teachers (CAUT) has again asked the McGill Administration to participate in a joint commission of inquiry into the David Mandel case.

Mandel alleges that political bias was the main factor in the McGill Political Science Department's rejection of his candidacy for a professional position last spring.

In response to the CAUT proposal, Vice-principal (Academic) Elgil Pedersen stated that "I don't think we intend to do anything...as far as we're concerned it's (the Mandel case) sub judice (in the legal process)."

A letter from CAUT associate executive director Victor Sim states that the CAUT committee on Academic Freedom and Tenure "sees no reason why the two independent inquiries could not be conducted at the same time. (However) it has endorsed the view in my letter to you of December 2 that the Quebec Human Rights Commission (QHRC) investigation could be stayed if agreement was reached on a joint CAUT-McGill committee of inquiry."

At the present time, Mandel's case is still under review by the QHRC. The CAUT letter states that Mandel would seriously consider to "withdraw his case from the Human Rights Commission pending a satisfactory resolution of the dispute by the (proposed) committee of inquiry."

In a resolution unanimously passed at a recent meeting of the Canadian Political Science Association's (CPSA) Board of Directors it states that the CPSA "supports the general principle of independent review in controversial cases of this kind."

The CPSA resolution further stated that it "fully supports the CAUT in its stand and urges the McGill Administration to lend its full cooperation in the establishment of such an inquiry."

Principal Johnston refused a similar request by the CAUT last November because of the pending QHRC inquiry.

Classified

Ads may be placed through Sadie's, 1st floor Student Union building, 9 a.m. - 5 p.m.
McGill students: $2 per day. For 3 days $1.75, more than 3 days $1.50.

McGill Faculty and Staff: $3.00 per day.
All others: $3.50 per day.

350 — JOBS

JOBS IN ALASKA! Summer/year-round. High pay: $800-$2000 monthly! All fields—parks, Fisheries, Oil industry and more! 1981 Employer listings, information guide. $4. Alasco, Box 9337, San Jose, CA 95157.

Part-time summer employment offered Chamber Music group, also for someone interested in helping with a sailing boat. Telephone—Stanley at 849-3110 or leave message.

352 — HELP WANTED

Subjects wanted to finish off psycholinguistics study. Must be either fluently bilingual (French-English) or clearly unilingual (English). Will be paid. For information, call 392-4684 or 392-6718.

354 — TYPING SERVICES

Leave the typing to us! We'll type your resumés or term papers professionally and accurately in both languages. For more info, call Agence de Placement Montréal 866-8829.

Have your thesis or term papers professionally typed in a neat academic style. For fast, accurate service, call 284-2647. ALSO minor research projects undertaken, books, articles read, notes taken & organized.

361 — ARTICLES FOR SALE

1978 Inglis Washer - Liberator 2, 3 cycles, 2 speed, white PLUS 1978 Inglis Dryer - Liberator 2, white: $600.00 for two pieces. 1960 RCA refrigerator - 13 cu. feet, electric defrosting, white in excellent condition: special $100.00. Phone 672-6202 after 5:00pm.

For sale: dining room and coffee tables with 4 upholstered chairs; sturdy single bed; big bean bag and assorted cushions; solid mahogany desk; curtains; etc. All negotiable. Call 931-7179 early morning or late eves.

DRUMS for sale. Westbury drums including bass with pedal, snare, floor tom, tomtom, all with Remo skins. Also includes Hi-Hat with 14" cymbals and crash cymbal of 16". Excellent condition, after 6pm 739-1652.

Cross country skis. Fischer Attack 6'5" with boots used only once, bargain price. Call 284-3117 after 1pm.

Telescope for sale! 6-inch reflector, 48-inch focal length, F 8.0, equatorial mount, electrical drive, finderscope, three eyepieces. $425.00. Phone 674-7140 evenings.

367 — CARS FOR SALE

Honda Civic 1977, original paint, no rust, only 35,000 miles. New Michelins. Days: 683-7330, local 271. Nights 465-5123.

For sale: 1977 Datsun B210 Hatchback, 5 speed manual. Marantz stereo speakers. Radial tires. AM-FM radio, tachometer. $1500.00. Call Ross 363-7000 or 366-8350.

370 — RIDES

Anyone wishing to share driving and expenses with two others who are planning to leave for California or British Columbia soon after Friday, February 20, 1981. Please call 482-7360.

372 — LOST AND FOUND

Found: Cross pen in front of Bronfman Building Wed. Feb. 4 around noon. Please call 392-8902, or come to Rm B-17 in the Union Building (basement).

FOUND: lovely woolen scarf in front of Administration Bldg. Pick up at Students' Society info desk.

Would whoever found my brown sheepskin mitts in the basement of the Redpath Library please return them? My hands are freezing! Call Louise at 481-1869.

I lost a blue purse with embroidered flowers in Arts West basement Ladies' Washroom on Feb. 11th, on Wednesday morning. I won't ask about the money, all I want are my ID cards.

Found: Ladies' Watch. Please call Joann at 392-8967.

374 — PERSONAL

The big Day is Friday, February 13th! Happy Birthday, Sayeed Siddique.

Sue & Karen! Did you like Ladies Night? The D.U.'s are having Ladies Night II Friday, free drinks again. See you there!

385 — NOTICES

Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity invites you for a complimentary lunch at 3505 Peel Street. Lunch is served at 12:30 pm Monday to Friday. Call 288-6717.

The Big Event — From Vancouver, RCA recording artists, DOUG & THE SLUGS will perform in the Union Ballroom Saturday, Feb. 21st, 9:00 pm. Canada's hottest act in the '80s. Hear them now on Gertrude's jukebox... this concert / dance produced by the McGill Program Board.

Restaurant McGILL Pizza

6:30 am - 2:00 am
6:30 am - 3:00 am
FRI & SAT

BREAKFAST
SPECIALS
6:30 - 11:00 am

545 MILTON

845-8011 ★ 845-8382

FREE DELIVERY

la quenouille

a good selection
of valentine, flowers & plants at reasonable prices

3418b park ave
(next door to Phantasmagoria)
842-1446

The Debating Union

presents

Jean-Paul L'Allier

Former member of the Parti Québécois

on
Monday, February 16 12 Noon
Leacock 12

Topic: Quebec Anglophones and the Quebec Liberal Party.

Come one, come all to the

Newman
Centre's

Annual
St. Valentine's dance!

It's the centre's event of the year and it's the only place worth going with your sweetie!

Admission: $2.00 and a paper heart
Time: 8:30 PM Saturday, Feb. 14

McGill Newman Centre
3484 Peel St.
392-6711

Friday
The 13th

Happy
Hour:
9-10:30

Full Bar
3915 University St.

Why Not Consider an MBA at

DALHOUSIE UNIVERSITY

Halifax, N.S.

Meet our program co-ordinator
while she is on campus and discover why the Dalhousie program could have special bonuses for you.

Wed., Feb. 18, 10:30 am - 3 pm
Room 203
Powell Student Services Building
3637 Peel Street

To all those who helped with billeting and with judging
at the

Winter Carnival Debating Tournament

last weekend: We couldn't have done it without you.

Special thanks to O'Keefe, Molson, Douglas Hall, and to those who devoted so much time and energy to organizing the weekend.

The McGill Debating Union.

Law Faculty overrules reps

by Rosemary Oliver

A bid by law students to increase their representation on Faculty Council was defeated by a margin of almost two to one yesterday.

Only nine professors voted in favor of an amendment to a proposed document governing faculty regulations which would have given students six seats on Faculty Council. Sixteen professors voted against the motion.

There are currently four students on Faculty Council, there were unable to vote on the issue due to Senate guidelines which prohibit students from voting on matters of student representation.

The principal argument raised against increasing student representation was that students are in a conflict of interest when voting on academic matters.

"Most of the students here believe it is more important to have a degree good or bad, than not a degree at all, and that is a conflict of interest," said Professor Stephen Scott.

"They have a tendency of relaxing, not tightening up academic standards," he said.

Professor Patrick Glenn agreed with Scott.

"In order to maintain our credibility, we have to be able to impose unpopular measures on the student population," he said.

Cliff Rand, president of the Law Undergraduate Society (LUS), responded by saying, "I honestly believe there are no students interested in this (weakening academic standards)."

Professor William Tetley supported the increase of student representation.

"I think six is not a danger number. If students have ulterior motives detrimental to academic interests, they are still not in sufficient number to exercise them," he said.

"I haven't seen them, I haven't seen them," Tetley said.

Tetley suggested that professors are in a conflict of interest when voting on matters such as promotion and tenure, and said that perhaps such matters should be left to the students to decide.

The debate often strayed from the issue of increasing representation to the validity of any representation at all.

"It's possible that students don't always understand the complexities of the issues we face when making these decisions," said Professor Margaret Somerville.

"If students believe professors are negative to students for voting against this amendment, that just represents this inability to understand these complexities," Somerville said.

Professor William Foster concurred.

"I do respect students, I do have faith in their judgement, and I do view them as responsible," Foster said.

"But just because you do respect students and view them as responsible does not automatically qualify them to take part in the decision-making process," he said.

There was some confusion as to how the six representatives were to be elected to the council. Currently, three of the four student representatives come from the LUS executive, with the other being elected from among the students at large. The amendment, moved by Professor Pierre Jobin, called for just the LUS president to be on the council ex-officio, with the other five representatives elected at large, with at least one representing students at each level of the four-year program.

Some of the student representatives believed this would weaken the power of the LUS in negotiating with faculty, and opposed such an election system, although they were in favour of the increased representation.

After the amendment was defeated, Professor Scott introduced another amendment which called for the removal of the privilege of voting on academic matters from the four students already on the council.

Scott said he felt the LUS was using pressure tactics by repeatedly asking for increased representation.

"It is time to establish the principle that on academic matters it is a mistake to have the impression that if there's enough lobbying and pressure, you will achieve what you want."

Scott's amendment was defeated. Only one other professor voted in favour of it.

Rand says that while he is disappointed with the outcome of the debate on this issue, which has taken up three faculty council meetings, he hopes that more representatives will be added in the future.

"It won't be brought up this year again," he said.

"Whether or not it's brought up again in the future is up to future members of the Faculty Council. But I predict this will be an important issue, and faculty hasn't heard the last of it," Rand said.

Mary Worth-meets cutbacks

More cutbacks:

SFU gov'nors ignore students

VANCOUVER (CUP) — Simon Fraser University's Board of Governors ignored angry student protests and approved a thirteen per cent tuition fee increase on Jan. 27.

Only the two student and one staff representatives on the Board opposed the hike.

About 160 students crowded into the Board's meeting room and hissed and cried out "That's sick" as the vote was tallied.

Grad results delayed

by Chris Cavanagh

Students who wrote the Graduate Review Examinations last December 13 may have to wait another two weeks for their results, due to a mailing delay. Many universities will not receive them for another two weeks.

Many students are upset and see their future education jeopardized.

"This could affect my being able to go to American universities," said Janice Rosen. "They like to have a full file before they begin to process an application. Especially in the case of a fellowship the information has to be in by mid-January to February 1st because there are a limited number of fellowships."

The tests were mailed first class and were delayed enroute to Educational Testing Service, the company that runs university entrance exams. Some universities were informed of the delay. They received a card saying "Absent/Delay" which means one of three things: the applicant did not write the exam; the results are being deliberately delayed; or the results were delayed in the mail.

Some universities, including McGill, wait until all information is in before beginning selection.

"When I spoke to one of the universities they (said they) hadn't been planning to process the application until all the information was in," said Rosen.

They later booed and groaned when a recommendation to raise tuition annually and consistently with B.C.'s two other universities was deferred, and not defeated.

"The only reason the Board deferred was to attempt to stall student activism on campus," said Student Society officer Doug Fleming.

"We are under no illusions. We know the real decisions are being made in Victoria. Though we haven't been supported by the Board in the past, we were asking the Board to turn down this proposal."

SFU student Peter Armitage said he found it "incredible that the Board of Governors is asking to increase fees 12.8%, and again regularly, when there is absolutely no study on how they affect different groups of people."

He said a Stanford University study in the U.S. showed that a $100 tuition increase resulted in only a one per cent enrolment increase among low income families and a seven per cent increase in higher income families.

"The onus is on the administration to provide comprehensive information to the contrary," he said.

SFU President George Pedersen said an impact study "is a very nice thing to talk about, but everyone must realize it cannot be done by one institution."

He estimated the cost of Health service

continued from page 1

of the Family Medicine Centre of MGH. This will save McGill administrative costs as well as staff remunerations to the tune of $80,000.

The committee narrowly defeated a motion by Students' Society VP Finance Salim Tharani to table the proposal until students could be further consulted.

Dean Herschorn did take note of Students' Society representative Liz Norman's request for a meeting "in the very near future" to hear Herschorn's report of the negotiations.

"We need to know," she said, "because we are responsible for informing the students."

such a study at $750,000.

Student Board representative Gordon Swan said that his own informal study of students on campus showed 34 per cent of the respondents would be unable to attend university if the increase was approved.

"The burden has to be borne by everyone," Faculty board representative Klaus Rieckhoff retorted.

"While the concerns put before us are real — they have validity — they are not the only concern the board has to consider."

Board Chair Ray Parkinson told students that "entry to the university should not be finances, it should be by ability."

"This is a political issue, it is not an administrative one," he said.

"You should not talk to the politicians but to the public."

Katherine Ludgate, from the Capilano college students society told the rally education cutbacks "are only the physical manifestation of a much more serious problem — the Social Credit government and its lack of concern for post-secondary education."

Energy plan

continued from page 1

energy revenues has considerably undermined the federal equalization program, a program intended to ensure a minimum level of public services throughout the country," said Lalonde.

"The NEP is geared to keeping the voters happy in the provinces of Ontario and Quebec," commented Barry.

"What you are proposing to do is rip off the province of Newfoundland of 84 per cent of the (oil) revenue."

There has been a good deal of discussion between provinces, industry and the Federal government but little has actually been decided.

"Since the NEP was introduced to Canadians a lot of government-industry meetings have been held, a lot of analysis has been completed, a lot of conferences have been convened, a lot of speeches have been made," said Jim Gray, executive vice-president of Canadian Hunter Ltd.

Meeting for Urban Issues Edition

All writers (prospective, new and old) interested in helping with a special Urban Issues edition are invited to attend a meeting this Friday at 2 pm, Union B03.

Letters

The other side of Iran hostage story

To the Daily:

Following the liberation of the American hostages in Iran, I heard the angry comments of Presidents Reagan and Carter about the mistreatment that the hostages were suffering. These comments are to me anything but shocking. Assuming that they were talking as heads of state, they diplomatically forgot that the CIA did far worse in mistreating people in Iran, as in many other countries, indeed. And these heads of state are careful to avoid declaring on the very same day that they militarily support unworthy regimes like El Salvador's at the expense of social change and justice.

The only crime that the Iranian students did was to take the hostages in the U.S. embassy and to summarily take the law into their own hands. Otherwise, their conduct was "reasonable" regarding the spectacular U.S.A.'s past record in relating to their human rights policy in other nations.

Luc Drouin
BCL II

EIC regulations for partially employed

To the Daily:

I would like to update the statements that appeared on page 3 in the Feb. 2, 1981 edition. Under the caption, "McGill TA Negotiations Going Well," the last two paragraphs refer to TAs as being ineligible for UI since federal regulations require a minimum of 20 hours of work a week which was changed to 15 hours on Jan. 1, 1981. This is true, however, at the same time that the hours were reduced from 20 to 15, the regulations were also changed to make eligibility possible through either a 15-hour work week or gross earnings amounting to $63.00 a week ($136.50 semi-monthly). Thus, although TAs cannot qualify under the minimum hours qualification, many qualify under the minimum earnings conditions, and as such, UIC deduction commenced in January of this year.

L. Kerklaan
Manager
Budget/Payroll Dept.

Setting the record straight

To the Daily:

Although I am not prone to comment on articles in the newspaper, I found so many errors of fact in Mr. Peter Orr's article concerning the proposed move of the Board room in the January 28 issue that I feel obliged to report them to you. They are as follows:

a. The Board of Governors has not met in Room 609 of the F. Cyril James Building since the Second World War. They have done so since 1966 when the building was renovated converting it from a building assigned to the Department of Biology to a building used by administrative departments.

b. My proposal does not involve the creation of a large lecture hall. The proposal calls for the creation of a meeting room which could accommodate groups of from 50 to 250 in a meeting or conference setting. I suppose that on occasion it could be used as a lecture hall, but this would not be its primary purpose.

Hyde Park

Hyde Park is a forum of expression open to all members of the McGill Community. Submissions must be typed and will be printed on a first-come, first-served basis. The Daily reserves the right to refuse sexist, racist, libelous or otherwise naughty submissions.

McGill International was founded six months ago following two years of gestation and development. Its director is Dr. Neil Croll. Recently McGill International has received considerable attention in the pages of the Daily, beginning with Doug Janoff's Jan. 19th article, based loosely on Dr. Croll's speech to a group of social science professors, entitled "McGill multinational invades Third World". The Jan. 26th Hyde Park section presented the text of Professor Peter C.W. Gutkind's Jan. 23rd speech before the Graduate Faculty Council, giving his views of Dr. Croll and McGill International. Among the Jan. 28th letters to the Daily were an elaboration on Janoff's article from two students with the Centre for Developing Area Studies (CDAS), and a note of caution on Prof. Gutkind's speech from Dean Gordon MacLachlan who chaired the Jan. 23rd Graduate Faculty Council meeting. Our letter is an attempt to clarify any misconceptions and provide some information on what McGill International is and does. We are anticipating the appearance in the Daily of the text of Dr. Croll's speech to the Graduate Faculty Council.

Given the increasing recognition in the West of the need for redressing North-South imbalances, McGill International was originated to serve as a means of organizing the development and use of McGill resources in the interest of helping developing nations. It tries to be the focal point for all members of McGill's academic community in the developing world. The creation of McGill International was approved of by the Senate and Board of Governors. McGill is the first university in Canada to have such a unit coordinating the activities of many faculties. Several Canadian universities have shown interest in developing an equivalent body based on the McGill model.

McGill International represents the 20,000 students and 2,000 professors of McGill, each with his/her own political beliefs; without becoming political itself. It has been felt that McGill International can serve its function without making political judgements. While McGill International remains apolitical in its aims and in its commitments, it does respect the broad guidelines of Canadian diplomatic policy. McGill International will provide no support for (nor erect barriers to) anyone lacking the backing of his/her faculty. Similarly McGill International will not oppose Senate policy, for example with respect with the Soviet Union. This is simply to prevent internal squabbles, and is not a means of advocating any political policy. Unfortunately, it seems necessary to add that McGill International is not a pawn for any ideology, big business, or racism.

McGill International has associations with developed nations, but its primary orientation is toward the developing world. Its activities are largely in the fields of agriculture, medicine, and engineering. McGill International is associated with the CDAS, which concerns itself more with social themes. McGill International involvements include setting up a university in Nigeria, an IDRC funded geography project in Kenya, CIDA funded programmes and a recent agreement which will bring 60 Kenyans to McGill.

The article's headline is descriptive of the content but not the subject of the article. It suggests that McGill controls a multinational corporation current invading underdeveloped countries. If the Daily's investigative reporters have uncovered such a body, they are mistaken in identifying it as McGill International. Also, the term Third World is too imprecise to be useful — while most agree that, for example, Botswana and Bangladesh are Third (or Fourth) World nations, is Janoff calling China, Mexico, and even the Soviet Union Third World?

The body of his article is disjointed, and attempts to mislead by taking quotations out of context, and by describing facts in a vague manner. Dr. Croll has since replied that such quotations as "What we want to do is put Western thinking into the local culture of the countries we're going to be working with", and "If a McGill team takes over a village in India for example" are largely fictitious. Without even first outlining McGill International's function and activities, Janoff casts its funding, apolitical policy, relationship with the Soviet Union, etc., in the least favourable light possible. We suggest either that Mr. Janoff remove his ideological blinkers and take a good look at the real world, or that future editorials be labelled as such.

The most regrettable aspect of Janoff's article is not that it presents a peculiar viewpoint, but that the lack of editorial control has resulted in others trusting the article without critical examination, leading to the continuation of misinformation about McGill International.

In particular we regret that Prof. Gutkind was able to use the two specific quotations mentioned above in his sensationalized criticism of McGill International. Dr. Croll has denied both these alleged quotations, and other statements in Prof. Gutkind's speech. Specifically Dr. Croll denies any knowledge of Moral Rearmament, any work by anyone with McGill International on a commission basis, and financial motivation for McGill International activities.

Prof. Gutkind's personal attacks on Dr. Croll seem to ignore Dr. Croll's past and current activities with the Institute of Parasitology, the Tropical Medicine Unit (Montreal General Hospital), and his research in India. His projects have clearly not been motivated by desire for financial gain, and preclude his holding racist views. In our experience with Dr. Croll as a lecturer and in conversation, we have found him to be a dedicated and caring person. Recently the directing board of McGill International, including representatives of six faculties, unanimously reaffirmed Dr. Croll as McGill International Director.

At this point, we would like to discuss the one opinion of these CDAS students that remains without the need of Janoff's tales. This is the view that an organization trying to remain apolitical can only remain ineffectual...The opinion we would like to offer is that the continuing evolution of human society will be sufficiently intricate to allow some people to contribute without entering the political arena. Certainly, we do not question that these people will be allowing themselves to be controlled by the political tide.

Dr. Croll's previous experience with public health projects and the unsettling effect of political turmoil shows that he is aware of the primary role of political development in present human growth. However, he is also aware of the many angles with which we can attack the problems of society which need not depend on a political stance. And, he is aware of the many students, and professors who are willing to put aside the differences in political views, among themselves and in relation to the host country's government, if doing so ensures the opportunity to advance the welfare of the people.

McGill International is a newly founded organization having the goal of coordinating the skills and knowledge of this university to help meet some of the needs of people. It will be a valuable opportunity for many to contribute to their world, and we would like to suggest to readers that it is worthy of your support.

Harvey Chang
Jamie Taylor
Med II.

c. The floor space under two discussion in the Leacock Building is now occupied by four classrooms and not three.

d. The comments attributed to Mr. G. Drummond Birks, chief executive officer of the Jewellery firm of that name, were in fact made by Mr. Douglas T. Bourke.

e. The Principal did not note that McGill is suffering from a space shortage. On the contrary the University has an excess of space and we are attempting to consolidate.

f. Last and probably least, my title is not Director of Human and Physical Resources, it is Director, Office of Physical Resources.

I felt it important that you and your readers should be aware of the number of factual errors in this article.

G. Sam Kingdon
Director
Office of Physical Resources
'Pot' perpetuates
'algolagnia nuptialis'

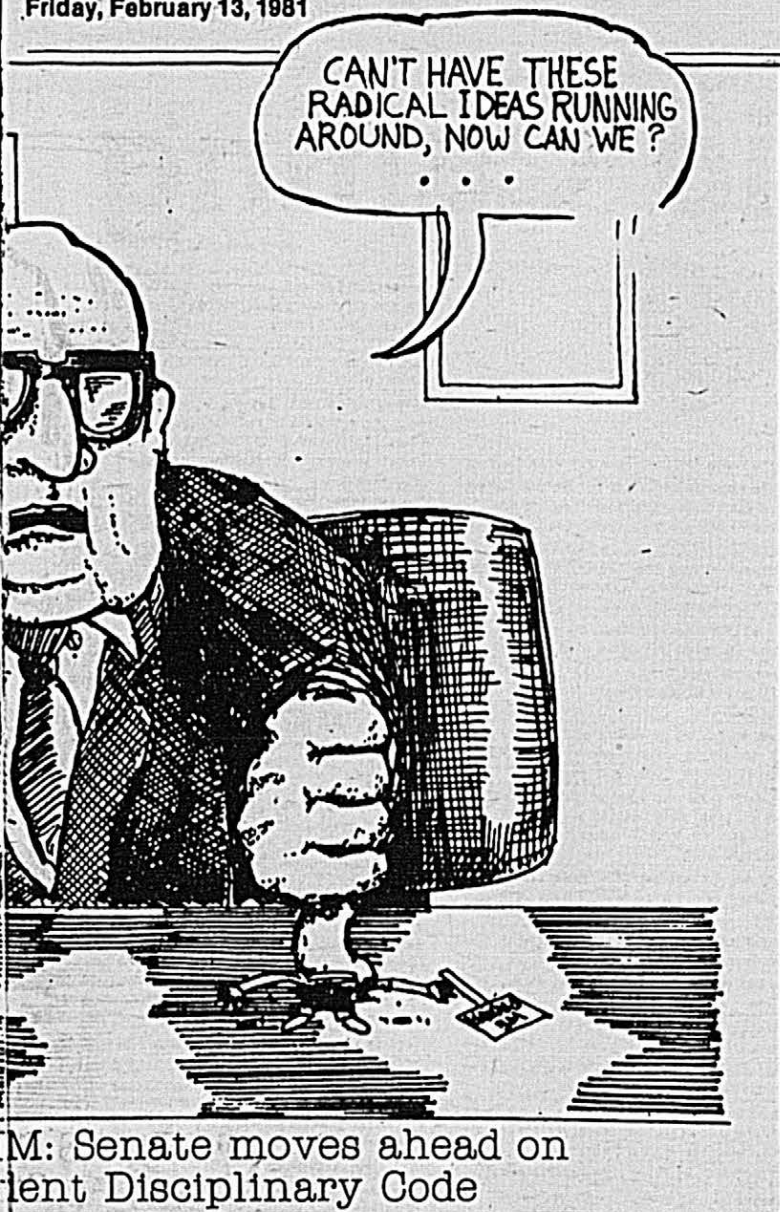

To the Daily:

I just happened upon a copy of the Plumber's Pot, a paper put out by engineering students. I have seldom read anything so revolting in my life. Throughout the paper, there are jokes which put down women or incite to violence against them. Where is the humor in a cartoon which reads: "Look look, see Dick and Jane at the pub-nite / Oh look, see Jane spill Dick's last two beers / See Dick kick the fuck out of Jane"? And this is just one example.

From reading this paper, one gets the impression that engineering students are a pretty juvenile lot. That's fine, as long as they don't degrade other people in the meantime.

Where do these engineering students get the money to put out the Plumber's Pot? Perhaps those who provide the funds could encourage them to put out a paper which shows more quality, because this is ridiculous.

M: Senate moves ahead on Student Disciplinary Code

Margot Minjon
U2 Political Science

Student tariff will hurt international relations

To The Daily,

The Executive of the McGill Teaching Assistants Association is appalled to learn that the Province contemplates increasing foreign students' tuition fees from $1500 to $3400. If carried through, this increase would have foreign students paying an amount six times greater than what Canadian students pay. The small positive impact this increase will have on the government budget will be greatly outweighed by the hardship it will cause for individual foreign students. Such high fees can only drive foreign students away from Quebec, to the detriment of Canadian students, who obtain a great deal of benefit from being able to study alongside students from other countries and other cultures. The government should also remember that one of the most tangible forms of assistance we can give to underdeveloped countries is education for their people. If anything, fees for students from the Third World should be lowered, not increased.

Foreign students obviously will find it difficult to challenge the proposed increase. We therefore call on Canadian students and student groups to publicly express their opposition to the government's proposal.

Stephen Watson
Diane G  rin-Lajole
Roger Levy
Danny Ritschel
Richard Phaneuf
for the MTAA

Pay-tollets for phantom runners?

To the Daily,

As a McGill student who is very concerned about McGill's budget, I am sick and tired of hearing that tuition hikes are the only answer. I list ten alternatives which I urge the Board of Governors to consider.

- 1) The introduction of a slack-month, this would save thousands in operating costs. I suggest March as a good month for this.
- 2) A charge of $50.00 for an official transcript.
- 3) Library books on reserve for 3 hours should be available for only a half-hour.
- 4) Raise the minimum course load per semester to 8.
- 5) Buy the right to issue parking tickets on McTavish from the city. Once this is accomplished, the parking signs should read "Parking 5 minutes Saturday and Sunday after 6 p.m. only. No parking Monday-Friday - Maintenance."
- 6) Lower the minimum passing grade to 30, this would attract Concordia students.
- 7) Construction of pay-tollets in all major buildings, especially in the Bronfman Building since those students are most able to pay.
- 8) Ask the university bookstores across the country to raise their prices to the McGill price. No longer will students be able to save 30% by flying to Vancouver to purchase textbooks.
- 9) Drop the whole idea of course change, this would save thousands in administrative costs. Pity those students who would have to stay a year longer.

10) Hire a student, better yet an engineer to protect those securities still being held in the administration building (those which haven't yet been invested in South Africa).

Stephen Silver
B.A. U3

Misleading Impression of Hyde Park concept

To the Daily:

I consider the manner in which I have been treated as Director of the Centre for Developing Area Studies in the text of Professor Gutkind's statement as published in the McGill Daily of January 26, 1981 to be misleading and even defamatory. I have contacted the Conseil de Presse du Qu  bec and they inform me that I should offer you the opportunity to rectify the situation before a formal complaint is lodged.

Therefore, if the McGill Daily does not publish an article correcting the misleading impression of the Gutkind statement by February 6, 1981, I intend to lodge a formal complaint with the Conseil de Presse du Qu  bec.

Thomas C. Bruneau
Director

*The McGill Daily Staff stands
by its decision to run the Hyde Park.*

Hyde Park is an open forum for all members of the university community. The opinions expressed are those of the author and are not necessarily those of the Daily staff.

Only column space escapes us

To the Daily:

In covering the talk given by Prof. Pauline Vaillancourt of UQAM on the situation in Nicaragua (The Daily, Feb. 2), it escaped the attention of your reporter, Emil Sher, to mention the fact that Prof. Vaillancourt was the guest speaker of McGill Arab Students' Association.

In the course of the talk the situation in El Salvador was discussed in the presence of McGill members of the Solidarity Committee with the People of El Salvador in Montreal. We would like to seize this opportunity to declare our public support and appreciation for this committee as well as for the information and mobilization work carried out by its McGill members. We add our voice to theirs in calling for a halt to all outside interference in El Salvador. We support them in their efforts to get foreign governments to cease supplying the military regime in this country, masquerading behind a "civilian" figurehead, with arms and other tools of mass repression, we believe such aid, supplied mainly by the U.S. and Israel, is responsible for the perpetuation of the systematic violence directed daily at the democratic forces and the poor of El Salvador.

For the Arab Students' Association
Q.M. Samak
Ph.D. Chemical Engineering

Divest, ye sinners

To the Daily:

Please find attached a public statement concerning divestment which was passed by Students' Council at its meeting of February 4, 1981. I would appreciate it greatly if you could publish this in an upcoming issue of the Daily. For your information copies of this statement are also being sent to all the members of the Board of Governors, all Students' Society clubs and societies of all departments and faculties of the University.

Thanking you in advance for your assistance in helping me become an "Agent of Social Change,"

Todd Ducharme

Public Statement

We fully reiterate our call for McGill to divest itself of all holdings in corporations which operate in South Africa and banks which extend loans to South Africa. The Board of Governors has been deliberating for nearly two years now on the question of whether or not to divest its financial holdings in South Africa. We believe that any further delay cannot be justified on the basis of deliberation. Delay from now on clearly means that the Board of Governors wishes to ignore the calls for divestment. Furthermore, we wish to state that divestment cannot mean anything but a full and complete severance of financial links with organizations which have investment in S. Africa.

An alternate formula is totally unacceptable to the Students' Society.

Divestment is not an issue of whether or not blacks and whites may share the same sandwich machine, it is a fundamental question of social, economic and political discrimination. No minor alterations can suffice while the present order rules in South Africa. All investment supports the continuing hardship and suffering of the majority of South African people, whether in the factory or home.

We call publicly on the Board of Governors to reach a decision on this matter. We demand a resolution from the Board of Governors no later than the 23rd of March, 1981. If that date passes without any such action on the part of the Board of Governors, the Students' Society shall assume that the Board of Governors does not wish to divest, based on the conclusions of the Interim Report of the Committee to Advise on Matters of Social Responsibility, and subsequent comments of members of this committee. In the unfortunate event of this being the case, the Students' Society wishes to remind the Board of the strength and depth of feeling in the McGill community and for the Board of Governors to decide to ignore the weight of student opinion on this issue would be a very serious action. By refusing to divest, the Board of Governors would not only be ignoring the expressed wishes of the students of McGill, but also of the vast majority of the people of South Africa, who have clearly stated their support for this action. Such a deliberate rejection of students' feelings on this issue is also a rejection of the principle of collegiality upon which this university is supposed to operate. It is in no one's interest that the students and administration of McGill University should be in a state of confrontation, but a display of blatant disregard for the wishes of the student body certainly would create such a situation. We therefore call upon the Board of Governors to conclude their deliberations on the matter of South African divestment, and to divest its South African holdings now.

To Ann: Bar school just isn't working out. Is there still a place for me in your private library? Pizza's good enough for me. Fiscally yours, Neil.

The McGill Daily

The McGill Daily is published five times a week by the Students' Society of McGill University, 3480 McTavish Street, Montreal. Editorial opinions expressed on these pages are those of the Daily staff and are not the official opinions of the Students' Society. Typeset by SST, 1860 Centre Street, Point St. Charles, printed at Richelieu Roto-Litho, 142 St. Pierre Street, St. Jean. The Daily is a founding member of Canadian University Press (CUP) and la Presse Etudiant du Qu  bec (PEQ).

Mail subscriptions: $15.00
Editorial offices: 392-8955
Advertising office: 392-8902

Co-editors in chief

Senior news editor
News editors

Production/design director
Assistant Production Manager
Photo editor
French Edition editors

Weekly editor
Sports Editor
Science edition editor
Advertising Director

Richard Goldman
Rosemary Oliver
Harold Koblin
Peter Orr
Anita Schapiro
Brian Topp
Brahm Pascal
Louise Haberl
Richard Katz
Dani  le Champoux
Henri-Paul Normandin
Gino Apponi
Emily Earle
Julian Belts
Diane Turbide

To the wonderful girls of 7-S McConnell. We love you. 7-S Guys.

To my favorite red-haired X-man from Canada, I can put up with your schedule, your sense of humor, and your perfectionism, because to live in love is life's greatest challenge. All my love, me.

H.B. I love you! Happy Valentine's Day no. 2. xoxo T.

To Napoleon Solo, a.k.a. 007: When I looked in her eyes, they were blue but nobody home... I love you. K.

Chickie, Your driving skills are only surpassed by the other specialties you offer. Tango anyone! C.B. Lover.

To no. 147: The pillowfighter with the snowshoes and the sexy racing pants. Happy Valentine's Day, Love no. 46.

Cosmine! Esti o floare, esti un crin, Esti parfumul cel mai fin. Si sa semna te iubesc, Eu mai jos ma iscalesc, Iury.

Blair, A first official Valentine. Wishes do come true. Tachere Monstresse.

To the cute Israeli blond: It's Valentine's again, but this year it's a special one, because I'm telling YOU "I Love You." B.

To R.J.: Did you ever stop to think that little beavers love aardvarks? Love myself, Oscar sends his love to you and the children.

Amarine: je t'aime, Jean-François.

Pam: Here's hoping you enjoy your V.D. (that's Valentine's Day) from your twins Bill & Bedford and Uncle Bill.

Linnea — Surprised huh? I knew you would check. Happy Valentine's Day, Love M.

To the girl who warms my heart and soothes my soul. Our moments together are jewels found walking down the beach. Come on over and let's play in the sand. All my love, the Tickle Monster. If in your stay at McGill, you're looking for a big thrill, I'd suggest: put a Theta to the test: they'll warm up you long winter chill!

Dear Johnny: Roses are red, Bananas are yellow, Yours is the greatest of any other fellow. Love, Alex.

To Lilian: Arterioles are red, Venues are blue, Biology is dull without you here too. Later days, Love, David.

Buon Giorno Signorita Rosally, Love from all her Gondolieri.

Dear Chief, lots of love on Valentine's Day. Hugs, kisses and squeezes, Jane H.

To my BMOG, You were there when I needed someone to listen — But you will always be my escargot — Je t'aime — Your American Woman.

Elizabeth S.: Well, anyway, Happy Valentine's Day. Love, Michael.

To M., C., K., H., K., and E: Be my Valentine at least for a half-hour. Eric the Flea.

To the Girl who does the Tango: we've been through it all, from "Giles" to "Zivago". May our hearts continue to grow together now and forever; my heart is yours — and only yours. All my love, The Lizard King.

I am: Roses are red, Violets are blue, I sure do love, Your big snowshoes! Love, Me.

To LIP Mr. Chrissy Homemaker: GET OFF THE FUCKING PHONE! (And make dinner — no fish fries!) Happy Valentine's Day! Love, Margot and Cynthia.

N.L.C. — Thinking of Queen's, a fight, and all that peanut brittle. Have a Happy Valentine's Day, Tons of love, Gilly.

Anne Marie, I thought I couldn't but said I would so I did cause I didn't want that I could and didn't when you did — Get it? Friends forever, somebody else.

Vico, If one thing leads to another, then I know exactly what leads to you! You were great! Linus.

Deborah, On this auspicious occasion, I can only call for help from Shakespeare: "I humbly do beseech you of your pardon For too much loving you." T.R.

Miss Piggy: Be my Valentine! Miss you from your socks to your locks! Snoopy.

To Donna Shaw's Son: If ask you to be my Valentine, will you remember? If you do, stop by this evening for a pick up. Love, your best friend's girl.

Maggie, A Valentine's Day kiss for my sociable worker. Now about that cat... Allan.

Heather dear, for you I pine. Won't you be my Valentine? If you do I'll promise thee, No more shitty poetry. A.F.M.D.

To J. la H.: You caught my eye, then my heart. Wish you were free to really be my Valentine.

I saw you in blue shirt-tails at the Amnesty International punk rock show and I saw you going somewhere on my way to nowhere, BUT I want to tell you I'm losing myself to remember your face burn in into memory this time, I like you too much, and I wish we were together, All in the silence of a long glance...

Dia Najukochanszago Palutka Kuchany. Tutek.

To Wimpy: The best moments... when I contemplate your eyes and gaze to my happiness... Chuch 143.

Para Ti: 1980, sunset-mountain, moonlight park, morning-us, roses, kisses — amor... Thanks for a year full of happy memories! I love you... be my Valentine! Rom-Rom.

To Chuck: The best moment of my life is... Waking up each morning and seeing your smile! (Here's to 510 wonderful dawns...) Wimpy 143.

To the B.C., B.C. or not, I'll be around. Guess I love you, heh? Happy Valentine's Day, Baby, Love, Ton "Pot".

To my preppy pals, Thanks for being there and for all the fun. Will really miss you both. Happy V.D. Love, your Kam Fung friend.

Dearest Jake, Isn't it pretty to think so? Why don't you and Robert meet Mike and me at Madrid this weekend. You bring the Pernod. Brett.

It was a sweet loss we suffered in palatial chambers of lesser beauty than yours. Love, M. Mellow.

To all MBSU females: Save a Frog, Eat a Cell and Molecular Biologist, Francis and Morrie.

Cupid Calling

To Marica: Roses with dew, Nights with strange sounds, My love for you has limitless bounds, M2.

To J. and Pseudo-J.: How 'bout pursuing a little post-game activity? Check out how we play our positions OFF the ice... Maenades (do you know what it Really means?)

To Joanna McF.: Thanks for the last month. I hope Steve didn't mind the bruises. Happy V.D. Rob.

Happy Valentine's Day, Pollyanne. Love Jesse.

Errotic whiskers: I'm behind you 100%. Hope everything comes out the way we want. Catch you at 6 or 9, Keith.

Dear Ralph, Don't they say that "Bestiality's Best"? We love you. From JB, JR, PD, MM, SR, JP, CL, TD, BF... and Mom.

Ciao Romano Africano! E St. Valentino, Doug-bisogna festeggiare! Pensavo di sorprenderti con Tantl auguri per St. Valentino. (E bello vedere il tuo nome nel giornale, no?) Saluti, dalla "romana."

To T.H.H.B. — Not like the rose will our love wither, but like the evergreen, live for ever. All my love, always, your favorite bathumper.

To the ghost of McConnell — Thanks for all the smiles & the many more to come. Always watching you — The RCMP.

Nick Lomesney — I believe in Investments — you're worth a buck... Have a happy St. Valentine's Day. N.J.R.C.

Piglet — You are forever in my heart. I love you. Pooh.

C.B., Neither time nor distance can part us from one another, but only make us realize even more how there is only one of us for each other. Love, Bernie.

Roscoe Nimptsch — Happy Valentine to my favorite pseudo-punk reggae dimple. Ich liebe dich! Lots of hugs and kisses from your kinky Killington roommate, HG, Boo Boo, Elaine.

To Leora L.: You're the one that I want. Hope to get together with you in thensar future. To a cute Valentine. The Connoisseur.

MFRML — You excite me. I wait for you always. Love Tukanchu.

Lover Boy, You can keep your toothbrush in my bathroom anytime. By my Valentine, Love, S.

DUCKIE — You are my reality and my fantasy, my night and my day, my tranquility and my passion, my home and my freedom, my tears and my laughter. Take me away to the Casbah.

Brothers of Sigma Chi — You are all great guys, and we love you (in our own way).

To the sisters of Gamma Phi Beta Sorority! You are the greatest group of girls on campus! Love in like.

To my fellow harasser in EX, I haven't seen you around recently and I have gotten over infatuation. Keep up your good work. Love, me.

Dearest Morrie, ELIMS! Thank for being buddy! Have an excellent day! Lots of love, Susan Schekel.

Oh Henry! (Marathon Man) You make me wanna scream!!! Love, Gloria.

FLASH: Where have you been? We could have a great life together. You and your Gos, and me and my beavers! Much love, the future Forest Ranger.

For the girls in 341 and 333: How about a spin in the car? Sue can drive (or can she?). Only time will tell. Don't forget the bawdy postcard. Love, your Monday afternoon admirer.

For the 3 R.M.O.T.F.S. It's good to see you three together again. It's been so long! Don't forget the reunion at F.L. Lots of love, your friend from the Island.

To Joanna McF., my favorite chemist: Those experiments last weekend were a blast. Happy Valentine's Day. Always yours, Denis.

Joanna McF.: So it is frizzed all over... Happy Val's Day and more to "come"! Ecstasically, Lew.

Polsson, I like your name. Love, Medieval Kneival.

Paul & Wendy — Happy Valentine's Day. Love, Sue.

Peter, If I had two dead rats I'd give you one. Love, Trutsky.

To the person who stole our toaster — Don't come to any more parties! The Management.

To Jane Glichrist, CRO: Sorry about the hassle, re: election and Daily layout... Happy Valentine's Day! Avi.

To PMR: A Valentine's Day wish to the only person who ever made my heart skip and my stomach ache for butterflies.

To Diddle-dee: With lots of love from your wuffiest smurf. Happy Valentine's.

To Sweetie B. Randallhead. Happy Valentine's. With all my love. Your K. Cutie.

Dearest Kath, In the moments of reflection, may your feelings be as mine to cherish you anew, to be my Valentine. All my love. (Would he pull it?)

M. — M & M's never melt as far as I'm concerned. Happy Valentine's Day! Your spacey Valentine, M.

Babe, ever since that night 17 months ago, my heart races whenever we're together. Happy V.D., my tender, sexy, passionate Venturer. Love always, Oh you little pretty, pretty one dressed all in leather.

Pooh — All my love to you! What would I do without you? Love you!!! Lou.

To Corleen: You gorgeous thing. You can enchant with only your presence. If you knew how much I appreciate thee... Care of Mr. S.

To the fourth floor dizzy damsels: four little dwarves are we, in past adventures we have saved thee. And now, we hope that you, Our Valentine's will be.

Even though I am a sp, I still believe in all this Valentine's Day crap, Happy Valentine's Day, Sue.

To the TP. "Your underwear is in the making." Happy Valentine's Day from your Thetas.

To our brothers Ron. Best wishes from your sisters on KAT.

Grinch. You fill my days with sunshine. With all my love, Your little Who.

Apple: With noses, spoons, guh's and E's, I will show you how much I love you. Worm.

Eileen: I'd like to turn you on to Capuccino. P.S. I like your bottom. Dominic.

To the beautiful women of Montreal, thanks from making life more enjoyable. D.M.

Ken: Thanks for the beer and crackers. Tuts.

Phyllis: "To our Evening of Lust." Happy Valentine's Day. JR.

B.J.: My poetry (?) has received poor reviews from the critics so I'll try my hand at prose. I love you, thanks for a wonderful year. T.D.

Barb — "Progressives" seem to project, My politics aren't yet perfect, But it's easy to see, That between you and me, Love's ideologically correct — Todd.

Sandra Jackson and Beth Moon — Thanks for putting up with one obnoxious person during a strained time. Appreciate it. Happy Valentine's Day. The Obnoxious person.

Grand Foin — from puppy love to lovers, to routine, to best of friends. You have spot in my heart. Bizou de Schtroumpheite.

To the sparkling eyes I miss: I wish we could be together, especially today. Oh well... you'll be my beautiful "long distance" Valentine. Love tenderness... your Poupée, with a monosaccharide voice.

I'm as politically active as I can get. The next move is yours.

Ian G.: An aggressive woman? Definitely. But one who believes "to each his own." Therefore will never corner nor display audacity. Should you as Garbo did, exclaim: "I want to be alone," so be it. Happy Valentine's Day. A friend always, the Motivated East-West Woman.

Eileen, Dominic, Ken, Edward, Michèle, Steven, Harold, Peter Baby, Shawn and Rob: Happy Valentine's Day Comrades. Your hearts are in the right place. Love you all. M.

To Vineet, Nikhil & S.A.P.A.: Happy Valentine's Day. The Pakistani.

Phyllis O.: I just for you. I love you. J.R.

Ay Fito! Despite your constant flirtations with Pine's pizza-man, "chugs," sweetkins, polo shirt addicts, psychologists, etc. I want to be you no. 1. Love you with passion. Chela. Be mine, not Pine's.

To S.N.: Happy Valentine's Day from "Pant Pant."

To S.J.B. — You're still my Valentine. N.A.

To the one who prefers "Rose" roses to "rouge" roses. Love, Ton Valentin.

Only this puppy toad will know how much her friendship means to me. Your friend, your Valentine, your toad. I love you.

Dearest Renée: please be my Dutch treat but if not, be my Valentine. Love, Stud.

Albany, Jennifer, Jane: I'd like to screw you all into the wall but instead be my Valentines. Love, Stud.

M.A. & Luca: your dimples bring water to my eyes and that's not all... You're the sweetest girl I know, but remember I don't like sugar. Los, your ball handling abilities make me dribble. Be my Valentines. Love, Stud.

DEAR WENDY, I LOVE YOU, DAVID.

Punkol Love and kisses on St. Crimean's Day. Hoping to share many more. Remember March 17, 1981 with love and affection. Although it isn't always there, you know I care. Love always and forever.

It's either you or Swiss-Orange Chip, and the choice is getting easier all the time. To a Babe, from a silly jock.

To Michael Wyl. I'll always love those cherubic cheeks of yours! What!! Happy Valentine's! Love xxx Eileen.

Dear Richard W.J.: be my frank lloyd wright and we'll share a mango! happy valentine's! Love, E.W.

To Charles and Dave, the most sociable social and the funkiest robot I know. What's a piccost! xoxo Nancy.

Dear Linus, I know you worked very hard (literally) but, alas, you were unsuccessful. It's just the flu. I wanted to know first. I always liked you better than Freud anyway. Love and relief, Spunky.

For Sharon, Gigi & Vicki: I think that I shall never see / A poem so lovely as a tree / You take this poem & you like it, see? / 'Cause I ain't gonna send no tree.

To Alpha Delta Phi, from us to all of youse.

From the Inadequate One to the Mature 22-Year-Old: I know you like kazongas / And my tender tasty toes / But are they worth the torture / Of my ugly dented nose?

To Sigma Chi and their new Pledger: Super-qualiFRATgellistic-xmealldoshes or in other words Happy Valentine's Day. Luv, IZZY.

B.L. — All last weekend, I was on your side. This weekend, I'd rather be by your side. xxx & ooo's.

To John, our sick friend: get better, you damn fool! Happy V.D., sweetheart, from one of the three at 3649.

I'll never forget my semester at 3660, 4th floor. Here's to Bruce, the raccoon and Sunday morning brunches. I miss and love you all. Barb.

To the guys (and one special girl) of the suite. Thanks for your most needed support. You are six very special Valentines. I'll never forget. Love always, Barb.

Dearest Joey, Cookie & Umtuckee: Luhut more to say than say. Happy Valentine's Day and I love you.

Darling Mitch C: Cheers to our love that will last forever. Hugs and kisses. Paul D.

Happy Valentine's Day 410, Sharon, Nancy, Gigi and Vicki.

SKP Happy Valentine's Day. Sorry about the mix-up. Love always, Bob.

Dockie, Serge & Henny: Hi there sweetums. Love, Bun-Bun.

To the PPO: Us and what army send the fondest Valentine wishes (are they there yet?). From the Vicious Hussy and Nick's Better Half.

B.P.T.: Happy Valentine's Day, Admirer.

My Dearest Love Bonnie: Into the pond you came, Heaven sent, wind blown, Ripples ever so imperceptible, Continue to reverberate through my soul. All my love, Sean.

To the special people up the hill: Happy Valentine's Day. Signed, the Artists who cares.

Trufus: Conard, je t'adore. Allitaki.

To M.R.: Journalistic erudition / was never a part of the Daily tradition / until the B.C. arrived on the scene / with satire biting & editing clean / so even if things start getting autonomous / I'll remain yours — with love, Anonymous.

Hot Lips: You're right, no more tears. Instead, CHEERS... only 7, as an engineer you should be able to go for at least 8. Engineering Queen.

My dearest Susanna Peahorn (alias Powder-Puff), Ellie Rubes and her phantasmagoricals, how can I thank you for putting up with me? Let me stay and I promise I'll TRY to like Bruce Springsteen. Mrs. Billy Joel.

Dearest SHUGGLEBUNNY: Are you free for supper on Saturday? R & R.

To my true love in P.N.'s class: Colored pens just weren't enough to cure boredom... It's our friendship, though, that gets me through M.E. studies. Happy Valentine's Day, from your twin in Montreal.

Myrtle: The party was great, but how will I every get all the Mazola out of my apartment? Oh well, at least the Village people decided to "stick" around? Yours in kinkiness, Hildegard.

To Claudia, Happy Valentine's Day, from the love of your life... or not. Rob.

To the Inkspot who came in from the cold, Happy Valentine's Day from the Jock.

Dearest Turtle, "There's nobody here but us (glurking) chickens!" — Coo...L Love always, Dine Cutsie.

Singing in the rain, hispanic hysterics, spontaneous combustion, kahlua (snort snort). Would I forget my P? Does the Pope shit in the woods? Yours till infinity or graduation (whichever comes first) Love, T.

Adoration? Love? Yes! Damn it, Janet! Why do you do this to me? CMC. PS be my Valentine, you "Chicken"?

Brothers — Let's get it together — we've got to pull together. If we don't the doors will be shut in the streets. Let's do it!

Hey Niguel: I'd slesta with you anytime. You need a new roommate? They can even give me a monthly bill. I'd pay mucho pesos to be with you!

Andrew: I want to rock with you, my English Valentine. Love, your A.G. Admirer.

To the Inuits: I'll tell you any odds that you'll never give a chilly reception! Be my six Valentines! C.C.

To the K.K.G.s: you skated our hearts away last semester, will you roll back into our lives soon? The Anxious Brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha.

To our favorite Orange Passers: you can come to our birthday party anytime. You bring the toothpicks and lifesavers. OK! Oh Yes, Happy Valentine's Day!

To the Ancient Greek Devils — We'll be your Valentines if you'll just forget that boat race!

To the Gamma Phi's: on this happy occasion we'd like to be your Valentines. PS: Remember the apple pies we gave you? Hint Hint.

Happy Valentine to that great girl Sue who is a president now! Took From Heart Broken.

Jeffrine — Thanks for your love and understanding. This is for you on Valentine's Day, can't wait to see you. Love always, Prince.

A Jean et Bernard, Les messages à Walton, le voyage en Floride (celebration time come on), les Late Night movies, les "games" de Twister. Pour tout ça, on veut vous enfanter et vous donner chacun un 50,000 tour-minute pour la St-Valentin.

Happy Valentine's Day my precious: with each day, you hold me in that Bountiful and tender Beauty which U've Sealed forever in my heart from the very first moment we've shared. All my love always, wa.

To Squeeze, Paul, Simone, Pukin' Dave, Jay, Bruce, Breesan and Bob: Happy Valentine's Day! I love you all. xxoo Diane.

From the manipulating female to Dr. K.: The cuddliest Valentine I know! You'll get your present in a few days... Until then, thanks for the Tylanol.

Sid: Bluegrass still sucks, the boss doesn't thrill me, and I won't wear a yarmulka, but as the mingo from India say, without you life is trade. The Horror! Love and kisses, Teresa.

What do you get when you add energy and resources to your hat. Heart! The Mad Hatter. Geo The Lion Productions. I chatter wor(l)d shatters.

To my lovable speck, Apart we're just floating specks in the universe's living room, but together we make quite a dustball. From all's philosophy of love.

Flying Frenchman: There's no denying the Italian in you but I'm glad it's there. Feeling free and unpressured, I want you to be my Valentine. Sweet love, your princess.

Chère Marie: il y a maintenant deux ans que tu embellis mes jours. Mals garde patience, dans un an tu embelliras ma vie et mes nuits. Bonne St-Valentin, Christian.

Dear A.B.: just a little note to say I love you. Happy Valentine's Day.

Mr. McNeil: we have to stop meeting only in the library! Whatever happened to Campbell's soup and Ritz crackers? Happy Valentine's Day! Love, your Middle Eastern furry friend.

Hey John Grey! I ran out of red paper. Here's your fucking Valentine for 1981, 1981, '82... etc. (Are you on the ten-year plan?) Happy V.D.

Kathy of London, with all them brothers and sisters: here's to remembering you. Love, XWCYI.

Shnorky El Greco, MTAwy, Dear, Wuv, Porky.

Sweetiepie: Candy kisses will melt and chocolate hearts are eaten but for you, sweetiepie, my heart will always be beatin'. Happy Valentine's Day. Love xo, Honey.

Mona-Mouthdinner on Tues. was great — so when will I get a chance to sample your gourmet cooking? Happy Valentine's! Guess Who?

To Collin: Roses are red, Grass is green, I hope we both find the man of our dreams — Love, Eileen. All mejor smuri del mundo — Tu quiero — Muchísimo — Tu loca.

To All the "Meats," "Studesses," "Pieccas": Happy Valentine's Day. May the Evening of Lust Bare Fruit for All! Love, Bill ("the boss").

To the Hebrew Nerd Bird: Lots of drugs, and sex, and rock-and-roll to my favorite punk. Mexico wouldn't be the same without you. Love, the one with the pink walls and plush carpeting.

Dan G. from Hawaii: Why do you keep popping up in all my fantasies? Life is torture. All I can do is sigh until you notice me. Sigh. Lots of lust, A Secret Admirer.

M.S.C.: I have high hopes too. Happy Valentine's Day! From your sweets (C.).

Coach of the Crude Unite (G.): Happy Valentine's Day, Cute Thing! Your secret admirer.

To Rose and Kathy in the E.U.S. office. Thank for last nite, from Uncle Rick.

To the cute blonde and the vicious hussy in Douglas Hall. Keep it kinky, by order of Doctor Xerox.

Today

McGill Shastri Committee

Series on Inequality, Ideology and Social Change in India presents M.D. Morris, Professor of Economics, University of Washington, Seattle, on "Growth, Change and Stagnation in Indian Industry 1800-1947". Macdonald-Harrington Building, Room C103E. Noon today.

Centre for Developing Area Studies

CIDA series on the Social Impact of Development presents, Denis Goulet, University of Notre Dame, on "National Development Policy and Grass Roots Alternatives: A Sri Lankan Case Study". Macdonald-Harrington Building Room C103E. 2:00 today.

Seminar in Northern Studies with Ms. Marjorie Schurman, Nutritionalist, Hudson's Bay Company, Winnipeg, Manitoba entitled "The Hudson's Bay Company Upgrading Program: Education and Marketing. 2 pm Room 24 Purvis Hall, 1020 Pine.

Auditions

For the Directing Projects today between 3:00 and 6:00 in room B50 of the Arts Building Basement. Here's your chance to check out budding Coppolas.

Shannon and Les Support Committee

First meeting at 6:00. All tall people invited.

Free Concert

McGill Symphony Orchestra, Uri Mayer, conductor. Soloist: Paul Stewart, piano. Music by Gershwin, Brian Cherney, Copland and Haydn. Pollack Concert Hall, 555 Sherbrooke St. W., 8:30 pm Caribbean Students' Society invites you to their Annual Cultural Show at 'Moyses Hall' on Friday, 13th February at 8:00 pm. $2.50 in advance, $3.00 at the door. Children: $2.00 at the door.

Term Paper Research Workshops

For Social Science Subjects start at the Undergraduate Library Information Desk. 10-11 a.m. and 1-2 p.m. Sign up, call 392-4288.

Valentine's Day Massacre Party

at Molson Hall, 3915 University Street! Happy Hour from 9-10:30 pm! The party lasts from 9:00 pm until 2:00 am, so come join in on the fun!!

the Registry

There will be a meeting of the Register staff Friday 13, 1981, at 3:00 in room 8, Morrice Hall.

Delta Upsilon Fraternity

The Brothers of Delta Upsilon present a Ladies' Night party. It's happening tonight at 9:00 pm at the DU house, 522 Pine Ave West. Complimentary (FREE) cocktails for women. Everyone invited! Don't miss the action!

Christian Science Organization Meeting

Hymns, readings, and prayer to reinforce one's understanding of the spiritual basis of life. Fridays, at 6:30 pm, on the top floor of the Newman Centre, 3484 Peel. Everyone welcome.

Winter Carnival

Attention all volunteers from Winter Carnival 1981. Come and pick up your invitation to the W.C. party which will take place on Friday, February 13th. Invitation (and directions) are available at 3637 Peel St., Rm. 211.

Debating Union

Novice Training — "playing to Your Strengths" & "Humour in Debating, plus more practice debates. Today at 2:00 in room 425/6 of the Union building.

A Sweet for your sweetheart?

Here's how! The Sisters of Kappa Alpha Theta are having a Valentine's Bake Sale in the Union Lobby 11:30-2:30 (proceeds will go to logopedics)

Sigma Chi Fraternity

We'd just like to invite you all to our Valentine's Day Special Happy Hour, today starting at 5:00 p.m. Bring your Valentine and they'll receive a free beer. 3581 University, 281-9021.

McGill Camera Club

One-evening courses in camera and darkroom techniques are now being offered. Beginner classes are free of charge to all members. For more info or registration, drop by our office (Union B-06) before 5 PM today or call 392-8925.

Indian Students' Association

presents "Teesari Kasam" Hindi film with English sub-titles. McConnell Engineering Building Room 204. 7:30 P.M. Admission $2.00. Members $1.50.

Saturday

Architecture

Free movie on Saturday, February 14th, at 12:30 noon McConnell Engineering Rm. A9. "Prabhupada's Palace of Gold," Newest Architectural Wonder of the World." Free refreshments and books.

Savoy Society

Rehearsal on Saturday is at the Diocesan College at 11:00 a.m. please be on time.

Caribbean Students' Society

Invites you to their Valentine Dance on Saturday 14th February at Y.W.C.A. (Dorchester/Crescent). Music by D.J. Mitch. Time: 9:00 pm. Admission: $3.00.

Big Mug Party

There is a fifteen-foot beer stein sitting outside of Sigma Chi Fraternity and in celebration we are holding a Big Mug Party. Bring your favorite beer stein and we'll fill it for you once free of charge; happy Valentine's Day! 3581 University St., 281-9021.

Daily

Gail: Levon who? Happy Valentine's Day. A fan.

To Will: Don't touch me there, Love Kath.

Dearest Shrimp: Happy Valentine's day. Love, The Tall One.

To Pat: Thanks for talking to me on Saturday night. Hope you have a nice Valentine's Day. Too bad the only color I'm seeing now is red.

To the Brothers of Zeta Psi: Happy Valentine's Day and keep having those great parties. Two girls who love y'all.

There once was a lass named Louise, / Whose am in life was to please, / 'Twas on Valentine's Day / When she found a way / To do both and not raise her fees.

Dear Lyman: Frivolity, ferociousness, and foolishness forms a fun fantasy. Enjoy Feb. Fourteen. Fondly, Freed.

Long life and autonomy for the Daily!

To the Gentlemen on the Daily Staff: My copy paper reverberates with all those adjectives you delete from my stories when I think of you... Love, Lois Lane.

You told me before we parted, "If I don't see you again, I'll see you in heaven." I hope to hell it'll be sooner. HAPPY VALENTINE'S. The Runner who runs with his dog.

To Deb: Violets are blue / Though you are not Red / Put politics aside / I'll love you till dead. Chick.

Rica: Unlike your creations, my circuits never overload. Proper design will keep me operating in perpetuity, but I do need your help in changing my batteries. Happy Valentine's Day! Stewart.

Yzzy, Pu gnikool peek. Evol, Yekim.

Wendy: I sit on your back, bugging you and making you crazy, yet assure myself and others that I am very sorry for you and wish to make you happy by any possible means — except by not bugging you. Have a Happy Valentine's Day anyhow.

To Steve and Hal: Park Avenue really is the place to "park." Thanks for turning on my headlights you back-seat drivers. Chick.

To Chick: Glad to see your stick-shift is finally in overdrive. The Park Ave. Twinnies.

Dear Red: The way your smile crinkles up your nose and the way the sun bounces off your hair helps me get through the day. Love, Shlomo.

To the Daily: Roses are red, Violets are blue, You could all go jump in a lake And I wouldn't care! Ha, ha, just kidding. April Fool's, Whoops! I mean Happy V.D.! — mystery wit.

Dear Mary: Roses are Red, Violets are blue, our cup runneth over with love for you. From Scoop and the rest of the Daily staff.

To K.P. the chicken hawk... Now that I've reached puberty are you still interested? R. the trick spring chicken.

MOM... I love you... please send money... your son, Richy.

To the three muses of Docteur Penfield: Thanks for three amusing years of college. The delinquent of Hutchison.

LORI of RVC... don't drink water... fish in it. R.

To my little drug addict: Grass is green, Tracs are blue, Whatever Rick says, Coke is good for you.

Lori G. I know I can't compete with Morris but life goes on. Love Richard W.J.

Roses are red, Violets are blue, The people of the Daily, We're speaking to you. You come to us for money, You may think we're cute, But there's more to us than that; We've got feelings to boot. So next time you come To us with a receipt, Make sure you're nice, Or else you'll get beat. Your B.M.s.

Dozens of Valentine's hearts to: left-wing bleeding heart liberals at the Daily (all voting members of the staff), all the nice asses in F and G House (you know who you are), and to all those lonely marines in Quebec City! A Concerned Citizen!!!

To Shanny, Lester and Isabelle, the gang at Owl Nedlaw. With all my heart and stomach, save me some OJ. Chrissy.

To my Better Half: Roses aren't (politically) red, Which often makes me blue. When you've been drinking, We all love you. Chick.

To the girls of Summerhill: year after year, you just get better and better. Those old castrating bitches were never like this. Hal, Steve, Rick et al.

The Roses are dead, / The violets are too, / The Liberals are in bread, / So is El-Yacht True Dough.

To Ann B. of Green Gobbles: Please be my turkey, valentine's and pizza are not good for your waistline. R.E.F.

In fond memory of Buggy Bunny / who perished with nose runny / taking a massage / in a Chicago garage. From da Mob.

I would love you, dear Lenor, Loved I not my beer even more. Your Aubrey.

To Brahms: Watch out for those killer exacto knives. Wendy & Rose.

You're hardly a simple solution to my problems, but will you be my Valentine anyways? Love, an admirer.

To Gino-fucking-baby: Though we only do it once a week, you're the greatest. CEIC.

To Rick, my "co" and other half: Roses are red, Violets are blue, Tho' we'll split up next year, I'll always love you. Rose.

To Barb and Pat: Roses are red, / Violets are blue, / We wouldn't be going to referendum / If it wasn't for you. Hugs and Kisses, the Daily.

To our masked avenger, Roses are red, Violets are blue, We may screw up, But your aim is true. Your conspirators. May the struggle continue!

Big R. If dry, sharp, scathing wit was money, you be a millionaire. As it is, your just a pain in the ass. Little R.

Peter Matthews: I know about the others, you can't have all of us. Make up your mind now, before I blow your cover. I hope you pick me, I would love to find out if your beautiful red hair is natural! One of your "foreign" friends.

To our Sweetheart, You're charming, you're witty, and you're beautiful! Oh, and you bake a mean cake. Love, The Brothers of Sigma Chi Fraternity.

Elisabeth "Shall I compare thee to a summer's day?" / What you mean to me I cannot say / But should Reason order me away / My heart would surely disobey. All my love, beautiful, from Steve.

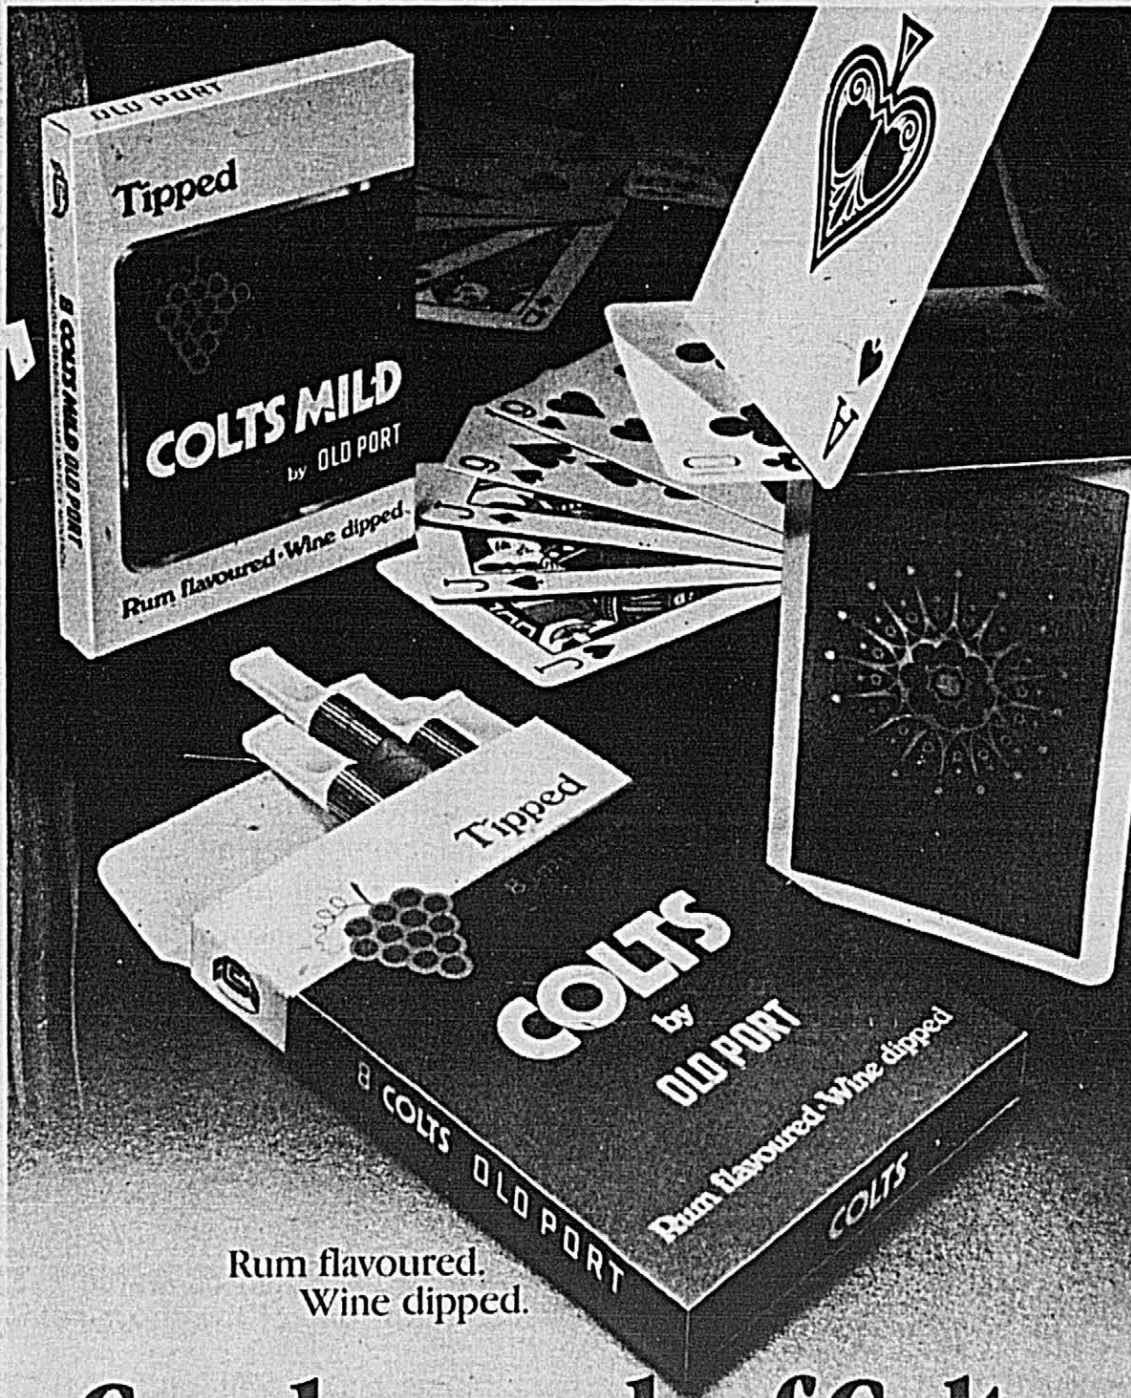

To Peter & Wendy, Two of the most wonderful people we know. Best wishes, Wendy & Peter.

To R.G.: Your politics are Red, Tho' blood is true blue. Despite what you think, I don't really hate you. Love R.O.

To my favorite ex-sports editor and co-producer: I'll come to your bull sessions anytime. Love, your other half.

To C.C. Gino fucking baby, Ricky, and our favorite CUPPLE: You're all invited for cognac June 17 after 9:00. Endroit: Café de la Motte-Picquet (down the field from the Tour Eiffel) RSVP, S.V.P. Love and kisses, the Paris Connection.

To the all the groovy people at SST: Love means never having to say you're sorry (another late story? another picture to shoot? more dots, Gino?), so no apologies, just Happy Valentine's. Love, the Daily.

Rum flavoured.
Wine dipped.

Crack a pack of Colts along with the cards.

CLEAN SKIN

Deep
cleansing facial by qualified esthetician

Waxing

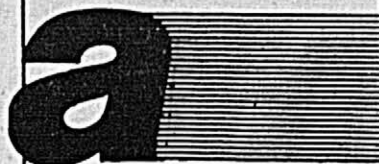

FEBRUARY
SPECIAL

10% off

Call: Diane Calfat
Cousin Cousine
666 Sherbrooke West
Ground floor

849-2733

Super
typesetting
from SST

SST Typesetting
1880 Center Street
Montreal
932-1454

STUDENTS' SOCIETY GENERAL ELECTIONS LOCATION OF POLLS

ADVANCE POLLS

Monday, March 2nd, 1981
10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Advance Polls shall be located in the following buildings:

Education Building
(for Education students only)

Montreal General Hospital Dental
Clinic
(for Dental students only)

Strathcona Anatomy and Dentistry
Building
(for Dental and Medical students only)

Student Union Buildings
(all students)

Students in the above-named faculties may vote on March 4th, 1981 providing that they have not voted on March 2nd, 1981.

OLD MCGILL

'81

All graduating students who have not yet had their pictures taken for the yearbook: You can still get your smiling face in Old McGill '81 but there are a few conditions.

- 1) The initial sitting fee is now $17.95 but you still get the same deal of four 4 x 5 proofs to choose from, your favorite to be made into a 5 x 7 full colour enlargement — and of course your photo will appear in the graduate section of the book.
- 2) Your picture and biography will be in a Supplementary section of the grad section and not in your faculty. However, your faculty will be specified next to your name.

Cost breakdown:

Initial sitting fee
and 5 x 7 enlargement	$17.95 plus tax
Cost of book	$ 8.00
Mailing charge
(optional)	$ 3.00
	$28.95 plus tax

TODAY is the last day for this special offer!

Add a Washington Dimension To Your College Experience

Have the time of your life and gain valuable experience in one of the world's most fascinating and powerful cities. Add practical experience to textbook knowledge in your field.

All programs include an internship, a related seminar and research paper, and briefings with leaders in the appropriate field—policy makers, business leaders, media people, lobbyists, labor leaders, members of the cultural community.

Programs offered:

	Credit Hours
Semester in Public Policy	15
Semester in Business	15
Year in Arts and Humanities
Management	30
Summer Internship Program	6

Mount Vernon College is a women's college. Only the summer internship is open to men

For information, just drop us a postcard. Please indicate specific program(s) in which you are interested. Address inquiries to:
Washington Institute, Mount Vernon College
2100 Foxhall Road, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20007

REGULAR POLLS

Wednesday, March 4th, 1981

10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Polls shall be located in the following buildings:

Arts Building
Birks Building
Bishop Mountain Hall
(4 p.m. to 6 p.m. only)
Bronfman Building
Burnside Hall
Chancellor Day Hall
Leacock Building
McConnell Engineering
McIntyre Medical
Redpath Library
Stewart Building (Northblock)
Strathcona Music
Union Building
Wilson Hall

Students who have not voted on March 2nd, 1981 may vote at any one of the above-listed polls.

Under no circumstances will students be allowed to vote without an I.D. Card.

Peter MacArthur
Chief Returning Officer
McGill Students' Society